REVIVER TECHNOLOGIES TO FORM STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP WITH THE HERBERT GROUP

Reviver Technologies to partner with the UK's leading supplier of Point-of-Sale (POS) solutions, The Herbert Group to target major Supermarket chains

Bedfordshire based Reviver Technologies Limited; a research and development company have joined forces with The Herbert Group, a major Point-of-Sale (POS) Solutions Provider to promote the Reviver patented technology into all of the major supermarket chains, including Tesco, Sainsbury, Marks & Spencer and many others.

The Herbert Group have been in formal discussions with Reviver over the last few months to form a strategic plan in targeting the supermarket chains with this latest technology offering.

Why Reviver?

Reviver is an innovative and sophisticated remote LAN/WAN management tool used to proactively monitor, control and fix mission-critical data centre servers, POS and manufacturing control equipment. Reviver is a complete diagnostic and monitoring hardware and software solution that allows Network Administrators to effectively manage equipment from any remote workstation or even mobile device.

What are the features and benefits?

- Provides Network Administrators with a 24/7/365 pre-emptive server health monitoring solution that sends alerts before the error/fault occurs, therefore assisting in reducing the retail server downtime.
- Provides Network Administrators with the facility of Remote Reboot of PCs/Servers, which avoids costly site visits, therefore reduces company labour costs.
- Assists Administrators with 'Diagnose-before-dispatch', which reduces part costs and reduces Mean-Time-To-Repair (MTTR).
- Runs on all Vendor platforms, so Mixed Networks are not an issue.

Adrian White, Managing Director commented, "We are delighted to have The Herbert Group on board. We are jointly formulating a plan to target the major multi-national supermarket chains."
